

Siemens
Management
Consulting

SMC. Living Strategies.

Consultant (m/f)

Munich

Siemens Management Consulting (SMC) is the top management strategy consultancy of Siemens.

At SMC you can expect a challenging work environment with a high level of responsibility in the top-management strategy consultancy of Siemens from day one.

As a member of a project team you will work worldwide, developing international business strategies to solve complex twenty-first century challenges in the fields of electrification, automation and digitalization.

Your personal development takes place in all business areas of Siemens and you will have direct contact with top-management.

Your responsibilities:

- Analyzing markets and competitors
- Recommending action for our clients
- Developing business plans and strategies in close cooperation with our client
- Conducting expert interviews and facilitating workshops
- Preparing presentations for top-management

Your qualifications:

- Excellent university degree (master's/diploma) and/or PhD, ideally in the subjects business, engineering, natural science or IT
- Relevant practical experience from at least two internships in a strategy consultancy and/or in a renowned industrial enterprise or a start-up
- Relevant international experience of at least six months (during your studies or prior employment)
- Outstanding analytical and conceptual skills
- Distinctive entrepreneurial mindset
- Highly developed communication skills in German and English
- Team player with strong interpersonal skills

Work with us as part of our global team to secure the technological leadership of Siemens. Let's shape the society of tomorrow together. Apply now.

siemens.com/smc/apply